

Beth York, Secretary-NATAS Boston/New England Chapter

Beth brings more than 20 years of television and video production experience to her current role of Director of Production at Redstar Media. Thriving in live, high- pressure environments, she has directed and produced more than 75 live-event multi-camera productions (long-format music and talk programs) in the last 2 years.

Her work at Redstar has earned her an Emmy Award as a producer, and numerous nominations as Director, from the National Association of Television Arts & Sciences Boston/New England Chapter.

Previously, Beth excelled both on camera and behind the lens. Locally, she cut her teeth as an assistant director and stage manager at both WLVI-56 and WHDH-TV in Boston. On a national stage, she spent three years as a writer, producer, and co- host for CBS's nationally syndicated series the Wild Web, reporting on the latest technology and gadgets, entertainment trends, new businesses/ventures, and lifestyle/human interest stories.

Following the Wild Web, she spent the next seven years as a writer, producer, and Emmy nominated host for the national outdoor adventure television network RSN (now Outside Television); where the lifestyle and news segments she produced and appeared in were regularly aired on CNN Headline News and the Weather Channel.
